Slavery is on the ballot for voters in 5 US states

By KIMBERLEE KRUESI

6-8 minutes

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — More than 150 years after slaves were freed in the U.S., voters in five states will soon decide whether to close loopholes that led to the proliferation of a different form of slavery — forced labor by people convicted of certain crimes.

None of the proposals would force immediate changes inside the states' prisons, though they could lead to legal challenges related to how they use prison labor, a lasting imprint of slavery's legacy on the entire United States.

The effort is part of a national push to amend the 13th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution that banned enslavement or involuntary

They are lying about amending the 13th amendment(slavery loophole) while making people think something is being done about it: 'Nothing will be done but it COULD lead to long, drawn out litigation years from now where if they violate they just have to pay a fine — which comes from that exploited labor anyway'. Neither the state, nor corporations, nor the media are for us.

Your precious parchment permits crimes against humanity while rich people bicker about wording to force on us...which...caused the problem to begin with. Stop begging rich people to solve the social issues they depend on. That's extremely irrational and unproductive. It is however, always productive to slaveowners to have their labor force subservient to and begging them. Withholding privileges in a concrete and steel revenue generating violence box, where the only thing you have to not want to terminate your own existence is those small privileges, is compulsory.

Journalists and politicians have become ensnared in a symbiotic web of lies that misleads the public.

If you are going to force people to exist in a sick, dehumanizing system and then punish them for the resulting behaviors, then work their lives away for it(to fund America's nationalist, global domination wars and our cheap labor construct), then have the militant goon squad torment them with pettiness & violence from sunup to sunup, you are a horrible creature walking this planet with us. Most violence stems from this resource competition construct that doesn't have to exist this way at all. Everyone wants the things but without making all those things. They want to run a cash register or lay floors like those aren't negative labor. It is not sustainable. They want others to do the cheap labor. Who better than those they can group up to dehumanize.

I am not excusing murders, pedophiles, etc. I am explaining how begging rich people to use their words and palace guards doesn't stop these issues. Or haven't you noticed? Do you want to resolve issues or just mitigate them as horribly as possible so you can continue clocking in as non-sustainable corporate cheap labor pretending to justify an existence you didn't ask for? Much sustainable corporate cheap labor pretending to justify an existence you didn't ask for: much easier to do the mindless thing. That's why snacks and an Xbox on your days off/time home. That's also why withholding privileges is compulsory labor. Have compassion for those around you. If you cannot resist bullies – learn how. Society is becoming unstable and too many people are willing to kill other groups based solely on their perception of that group. Rational people don't dehumanize others. Rational people don't do republican vs democrat things. Rational people don't beg rich masters for a century and act as if they will tell the truth this time around instead of continuing to fuel social division for revenue & control. How much revenue? The 'criminal' 'justice' 'industry' generates more revenue turnover than the combined GDP of 133 countries. Those words are in single quotes because the state twists definitions so its worshipers stay bound in their paracosm. The state signs contracts with corporations demanding 95-100% bed occupancy which is incentivized incarceration. The families get exploited hard by SecurusTech, Aramark, Tiger, GTEL, etc just for communication and food.
