Flag-wavers Are Cowards, Materialists, Sadists, and/or Indoctrinated, Which Are You?

The 'arguments' of flag/cross wavers would be hilariously absurd were they not so socially destructive, albeit usually passively. Holding up, flying, or mounting a flag/cross is proudly announcing your intellectual retardation to the rest of us. Democracy is tyranny by proxy, insulating the abusive authority, using our peers as defense. Democracy and individual consent are mutually exclusive. You cannot be for both. If you vote, you beg wealthy authority to dominate your peers with violent police, then have the audacity to call it 'freedom'. Comply with directives of their corporate construct issued by its representatives or you get incarceration/death.

We are taught since kindergarten to worship flag, recite doctrine, and put the State first. It is law. We are taught that this subservience is freedom. We are taught that resource competition and corporate servitude are freedom. None of these things are freedom but instead, are mental and physical chains that we are taught to use to choke out our peers when get vocal about suffering at the hands of our precious masters and their dehumanizing system. You are free to think whatever you want as long as you physically comply with existentially invalid directives by wealthy, abusive authority. Victims of this doctrine that are now grown, wave the flag yet claim they haven't been programmed by the State. The flag and cross are tools of the State. They are weapons of social control and division. This is a planet of existence but the United States is trying to turn it into a planet of slavery. How do they dominate the globe with 750+ bases in other people's countries? With the Green Stripe Globetrotters, the mindless tools you worship on days like the last Monday in May, third monday in April, Nov 11, etc. Global domination, resource competition, culture destruction, fighting/killing/dying so wealthy suits can dominate us with violent police? Oh, such heroes!

Reinhard Gehlen definitely did his part in the United States post WW2. Just look around you at all the proud Cold War leftovers. They are so proud that the United States helped stop Germany from dominating the globe but now that it's the United States going for global domination, they are all for it. Sickening that the State hides behind its worshipers. In other words, many people support boots just for being boots just because they are friend or family, ignoring everything those boots enforce globally and locally. This is wholly irrational and entirely unacceptable. Just as there is a certain type of individual that signs up to be a Blue Stripe Bandit, the same generally applies for their Green Stripe counterparts. There is a funnel from military to law enforcement. Materialists, cowards, sadists, and the indoctrinated. If you were not afraid and didn't desire control of others or social currency, you would not sign up to be a mindless tool for wealthy suits. You would not think that because you can beg corporate authority to let you clock in for snacks, you are 'safe' and 'free'.

You think Germany dominating the globe was a bad idea but it's acceptable for the United States to do it? Who is retarded?

The dominant Western religion was not successful at spreading because of the quality of its content, but by the violence committed by its followers in its name. Religion, nationalism, religious nationalism, and all of its derivatives are socially divisive and destructive. Us vs them, gang gang, tribal, primitive mentalities. Religions and governments co-opted morality yet have committed exponentially more atrocities in its name. Anthropocentric thought is a problem and nationalist/religious thought stems from it, fueled by fear. Intellectual thought is difficult. Introspection a developed skill. Much easier to hold up a simple symbol and act like that wins the game for you. Flag, cross, hand salute for the mental invalids. They call people 'criminals' yet most of their authority and its worshiped footclan fit their own definition. Anyone that challenges their doctrine they call 'crazy'.
